Electronic invoicing developments from around the world

Future of Tax & Legal webcast series

Global Indirect Tax Services edition

Join our webcast on Tuesday 4 May 2021: Electronic invoicing developments from around the world

We are pleased to invite you to the twelfth session in our series of Global Indirect Tax Services (GITS) webcasts. This webcast will provide updates on electronic invoicing developments from around the world.

The evolution of technologies used by tax administrations is resulting in the continuous issuance of new regulations and requirements imposed on taxpayers. Managing the electronic invoicing reforms and requirements across multiple jurisdictions is a challenge for businesses from a data, policy, technology and operations perspective.

In this session, join our presenters to explore:

- Mainstream models for mandatory electronic invoicing and key regulatory updates across the EU, LATAM and ASPAC regions.
- Key aspects of electronic invoicing businesses should pay close attention to.
- How to achieve cost savings and efficiencies through electronic invoicing.

Suggested audience: Heads of Tax, Tax Directors, Indirect Tax leaders and other business leaders.

Clicking the register link above will enable you to register for this webcast and subscribe to updates on additional webcasts in the series. After registering for this event via the link above, you will receive details on how to log in. After the webcast, you will receive follow-up materials, including a certificate of attendance for those who qualify, as well as speaker contact details.
