Marco Amoedo

Chief Technology Officer

KPMG Crimsonwing

A technology strategist with expert knowledge in enterprise software engineering, customer experience and technology innovation, Marco has been part of the Microsoft ecosystem for over fifteen years and is a respected member of the Microsoft Dynamics community for his contributions to projects across multiple industries worldwide. Marco specialises in bridging the gap between technology innovation and businesses challenges, mentoring technology teams to obtain the most value out of the Microsoft platform. Marco's primary role is to lead the R&D organisation and create value for our customers by building reusable IP and industry solutions, as well as ensuring we provide the best possible technical solutions in our projects. Additionally, Marco has been awarded the Microsoft Most Valuable Professional Award for Microsoft Dynamics on six occasions.