Preliminary Financial Analysis

Why you need Preliminary Financial Analysis

The context

- You are considering making an equity investment.
- Early in the Target identification and assessment stage, you have had no or limited contact with the potential investees.
- However, you have certain financial information relating to the potential investees because it is either publicly available or because it has been provided to you.

Your considerations and your need

- You need to make an initial assessment of the potential investees. You need an assessment that adds value to your process, be completed quickly and cost-efficiently.
- Your in-house resources for financial analysis are limited.
- Therefore, you need experts to conduct a Preliminary Financial Analysis based on the available information. You need an analysis that is contextual, linked to your assessment process and can be built on as the deal progresses.

Our offer

Scope of work: Primary Financial Analysis

A set of procedures that cover basic aspects of the financials of the target.

- Quality and limitations of the financial information made available
- Financial performance, revenue and cost composition, unusual items.
- Financial position trends and composition.
- Working capital components and key metrics.
- Fixed assets, non-current assets and historical capital expenditure.
- Cash and debt profiles.
- Cash flow components.
- Related party transactions and balances.

Timelines and reporting

- Flexible work commencement. After being engaged, we will start at your request.
- Draft report available in 5-7 working days after financial information is provided to us.
- The work is performed solely based on the financial information. There will be no Q&A with management of the target company.
- Reporting in KPMG-standard format, on a short-and-concise basis focusing on significant matters, in English or Vietnamese, with one presentation session if required.

Further transaction services and support, as you may request

- After completion of the service, we would listen to your concerns and consider any gaps in the analysis and discuss how we can provide further support
