

Intensified demands on and from the government workforce

63%

say demands of job have increased

57%

say they would like to see their government organization provide more remote jobs

38%

say their happiness at work has worsened

31%

Are actively thinking about or looking to leave their employer

Top 3 reasons government workers stay at their organization:

1. Good and/or competitive benefits package
2. Competitive financial compensation
3. Maintain healthy work-life balance

37%

Say working with a manager who they do not enjoy working with is a top reason that may or would make them want to leave their organization

66%

say their government organization provides modern digital tools and other technology that are easy to use and enable them to be more productive

Source: KPMG LLP, "American Worker study," May/June 2022

