Legislative update: Comparing Biden and Wyden international tax proposals (KPMG chart)

Tax proposals from President Joe Biden and Senate Finance Committee Chairman Ron Wyden (D-OR) would make substantial changes to the U.S. corporate tax system—in particular, major changes to the international tax system that would reverse certain rules included in the 2017 tax law (the law that is frequently referred to as the “Tax Cuts and Jobs Act”).

President Biden and Chairman Wyden are broadly proposing to move in the same direction—increasing the U.S. corporate rate while simultaneously raising taxes on foreign earnings. But there are important differences between Biden’s proposals and those outlined by Chairman Wyden.

KPMG is presenting on Friday April 16, 2021, at 2:00 p.m. EDT, a webcast that will explore the details of the proposals. Register for the webcast

In advance of the webcast, KPMG provides the following chart of the Biden Administration and Wyden proposals.
