

Life Sciences (LS)—American Worker Survey

Job satisfaction and attitudes on automation and 4-day work weeks

LS workers are more likely to be actively looking for new jobs

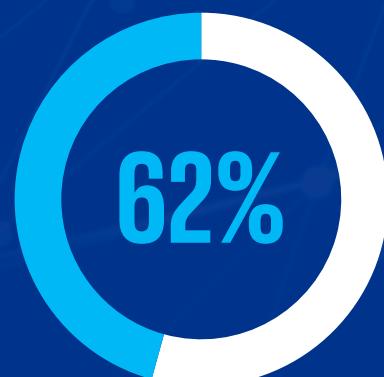

LS workers are interested in a 4-day (32-hour) work week

Most say they could accomplish the same amount in four days as they do in five

Rethinking degree requirements

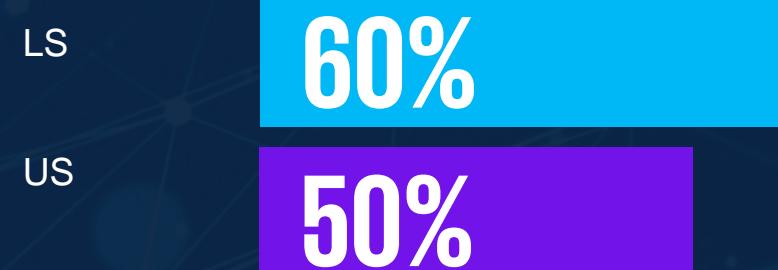

Most LS workers say their company misses qualified candidates by requiring college degrees

Work-life balance and culture are top concerns for LS workers

GenAI / Automation: LS shows high adoption, optimism

Most say automation has improved their professional abilities

Most LS workers regularly use automation tools in their work

